SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017: THE NO. 1 IN THE INDUSTRY

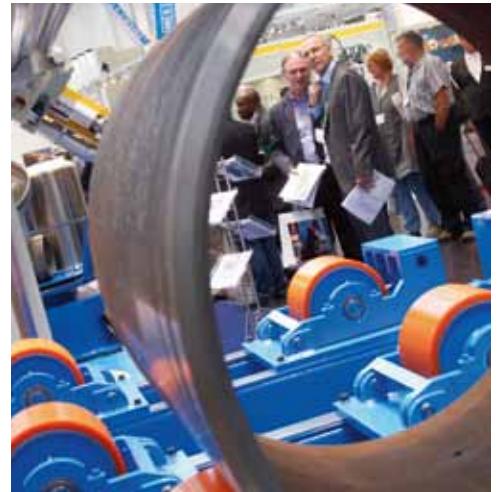

Welcome to the worldwide number one in the industry: From 25 to 29 September, the international experts in joining, cutting and surfacing technology will meet for the 19th SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN trade fair, which, due to the renovation work at the site of the organiser MESSE ESSEN, will be held in Düsseldorf in 2017. Seamlessly following on from the excellent figures of SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2013, the world's leading trade fair will also live up to its diverse reputation in 2017 – in keeping with the slogan "Join Together." It is the meeting place for experts and top decision makers from all over the world, it combines all the market leaders in one place and, more than any other industry show, it displays the entire value chain with a complete and innovative range of machinery, products, processes and services. After the 18th SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN, the more than 1,000 exhibitors from more than 40 nations spoke positively of the well-informed and investment-friendly trade visitors. These visitors ensured a strong trade fair business, with investments totalling 1.5 billion euro. The extensive follow-up business also showed the extremely high importance of SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN. Of the approximately 55,000 trade visitors from 130 countries, almost every second visitor spent at least two days in Essen.

SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017: THE WORLD'S LEADING TRADE FAIR

The slogan "Join Together" says it all: As a leading trade fair, SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN brings exhibitors and visitors together like no other industry event worldwide. As an exhibitor, you will benefit from the high competence of visitors, of which more than 80 percent make decisions on purchasing and procurement in their companies. SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN is also exceptional in terms of international visitors, and established a new record in 2013: Approximately half of all visitors travelled from abroad, mostly from Europe, followed by Asia and America. More than 90 percent of trade visitors intend to come back to SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017. Excellent prospects for you as an exhibitor: You can present your current cutting-edge technologies to customers and interested parties in the industry from all continents, maintain existing customer relationships and make new contacts. In 2013 every second exhibitor initiated many new business connections. SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017 also serves as a global platform for advanced training and knowledge building - for example with the DVS CONGRESS, organised by the cooperation partner German Welding Society (DVS - Deutscher Verband für Schweißen und verwandte Verfahren e. V.)

"SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN is our most important platform for customer contacts. We follow its rhythm with our innovation."

Mirco Frasson, Head of Marketing, Selco srl/Italy

The DVS, the number 1 in joining technology

The German Welding Society (DVS - Deutscher Verband für Schweißen und verwandte Verfahren e. V.) stands for competence in all areas of joining technology. Therefore, with its 20,000 members the DVS is an institution in the industry and as such has been an important cooperative partner of SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN from the beginning. The comprehensive activities of the association are divided into research, technology, education, certification and industry events. Through cooperation with international organisations and institutions all work results of DVS are recognised worldwide.

Competitions for young welders

SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017 will again be an arena for talented young welders. The competitions in manual arc welding, metal active gas welding, gas welding and tungsten inert gas welding will be held live at the show. Germany's Best of the Best will compete against each other at the 12th DVS National "Young Welders" competition. International competitions round off the competition days.

"Our presence at SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN was very effective. Here we meet our customers and make new contacts."

Dr. Mustafa Kocak, Chief Executive Officer Gedik Holding/Turkey

"We will never miss a SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN event."

Dipl.-Ing. Uwe Manohr, Managing Director MANOHR Schweißtechnik, Germany

VISITS DÜSSELDORF

MESSE ESSEN begins the expansion and renovation of its exhibition grounds in 2016. Due to the modernisation, SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017 will be held in Düsseldorf. The North Rhine-Westphalian capital has a lot to offer. The legendary Old Town and the exclusive Königsallee are known internationally. Another Düsseldorf boulevard is the Rhine promenade. Among the top sights and attractions are the MedienHafen with its modern architecture, the Benrath Castle and the picturesque town district of Kaiserswerth. Düsseldorf's variety of restaurants ranges from traditional pubs to fine gourmet dining, some of which are among the best in Germany. The cultural offering with opera, concert hall, theatres, renowned museums and art galleries is also comprehensive. And if you want to relax by shopping after a successful day at the trade fair, you can do this in the most elegant and trendy boutiques of the fashion city of Düsseldorf.

ARRIVAL

PLANE Düsseldorf Airport is three kilometres away from the exhibition centre and is reachable within a few minutes by bus number 896 or by taxi. For more information visit www.duesseldorf-international.de

CAR Arrival via the A44 motorway, the signposts for the exhibition lead to the large car parks P1 and P2. From there, free shuttle buses (bus shuttle 897) take you to the exhibition entrances.

TRAIN The main railway station at Konrad-Adenauer-Platz is located in the city centre. From there, the tram lines U78 and U79 will take you to the exhibition centre.
